Our January Clearance Sale is an event of vital, dynamic money saving opportunities. Its scope is boundless. Nearly everything in the store is sacrificed. Cost prices prevail, but even cost prices are relentlessly undersold where stocks are especially heavy. Clearance simply means that everything has got to go—that decks must be cleared for our Spring campaign. Clearance is Opportunity, and Opportunity is knocking at your door, and tremendous savings await your welcome.

We never carry goods over a season. It's store policy—one of the unbreakable rules of our business. We dispose of our goods while they are new and seasonable. We stop at no sacrifice to effect absolute clearance of one season's goods before embarking on a new season's campaign. No eight months' rest in moth balls for our merchandise.

This year we meet the "clearance" period with immense stocks of Winter Goods. This stock must be moved—cleared out—sold completely and quickly. Because stocks are especially big, prices have been remarkably small. But this fact will evince itself—when you come.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 5, 1910.

CONGRATULATIONS.

We are to have a sanitary city. At least if not, the fault will be that a good beginning is not lived up to. This beginning was made on Monday evening. The Council, in its resolution to the commissioners, voted $1,000,000 with which to install sanitary services in buildings whose owners are unable to finance the improvement themselves. The cost of the service will be charged against property, and the commissioners are to make annual payments. The scheme is in parallel with that adopted in the building of sidewalks and the making of boulevards.

The commissioners have been working on this line for some time, and seem to have hit upon a good plan, as it meets the needs of the case and spares the City against imposition. Only services of minimum price will be installed by the City. These will only be installed in buildings occupied by the owners. Those wanting better services will be required to provide them. The building by law already covers the case of new buildings. The man who has to be able to prove his case, comparatively, stands a good chance.

Altogether the plan seems to meet the needs of the City getting involved in more than it can afford.

The plan is not, of course, a scheme of civic charity at all. The chief idea is to make it possible to enforce the institution of services which heretofore could not be done through fear of working hardship on a considerable number of people. The scheme will relieve the Council of this disability. It will now be possible to enforce the installation along every street traversed by mail. This should be done. It is done promptly and vigorously next fall, and the Council for having adopted it should be commended.

It is the opinion of the commissioners that the plan will be adopted.

C. N. R. ACTIVITY.
The Canadian Northern, having run 400 miles of rail road in the last year, and the present season, and have graded 20 miles more on which steel can be laid next spring. The significance of this is revealed in the fact that their operations were carried on in five provinces. The Canadian Northern, however, has not yet opened line in Nova Scotia, Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. They have already a summer port on the Atlantic at Quebec, service having been established a short time since on their new line from that city to Ottawa.

It is clear that the Canadian Northern promoters intend to accomplish their long planned system by making it a transcontinental system, and that they will have to do this in the winter of 1910-11. They have large gaps to be filled in, that from the Ontario line around the north shore to connect with the Manitoba system, and that from Edmonton west to the Pacific. Arrangements for the connection of the lines have already been made with the Canadian Government and it is in line with the rule of things that when Mr. Benington, of course, but of papers which are more anxious to make a stir than to the kind of a story make or the kind of a means they employ in making it.

12½-miles not much line was laid this year of immediate use to Edmonton, but the extension of the main line westward will of itself be of great importance to the City and will do much to hasten the Canadian Northern's efforts to develop a system of lines in this district. A though railway is of little use without tentacles thrown out to gather trade, and from the traffic from the surrounding districts to the main line at Edmonton, it is a necessity of the case that they must be built, and that when built will help to lift Edmonton into the position of the Winnipeg of Alberta.

It has been the policy of the Canadian Northern promoters to create a feeder system first. They began fifteen years or so ago by taking over a large system of lines, and then had built and which the owners did not see their way to extend and operate. This line they extended into a pretty large system in Manitoba, while one branch of it became the line to Edmonton. The Canadian Northern is ready in this City to have concentrated themselves with building lines only in the West, waiting no doubt for the "psychological moment" in British Columbia politics, and also planning the time of having a collecting and distributing system ready to move into those business into the through line whenever this should be completed. In Eastern Canada the Company have also been busy. They bought a road in Nova Scotia, names in Ontario and Quebec, building branches into and through desolate territory rather than concentrating efforts on the construction of one main line.

This has been method in these scattered and disconnected operations, and with the construction of the western section of the main line provided for, they have come to link up Ottawa and Fort William to a through line.

They have been working on a system of subsidiary roads in the West and the east to meet the needs of the case and spares the City against imposition. Only services of minimum price will be installed by the City. These will only be installed in buildings occupied by the owners. Those wanting better services will be required to provide them. The building by law already covers the case of new buildings. The man who has to be able to prove his case, comparatively, stands a good chance.

FIGURES IN BRITAIN'S FIGHT
NUMBER THIRTEEN

The Church is a real figure in British politics, and it should be so. Interests of the nation of which the Church is the guardian are at stake in this conflict. Besides, the Church has a place and is a power in Parliament. Men who hold the benches in the House of Lords, and to whom has been entrusted the right to speak in every case, are not likely to do so. The occasion is unique, the issue most momentous. The Bishop of Bristol spoke and voted against the Budget, giving passionate support to the cause of the people.

It was not that course preferable to the course of the Archbishop of Canterbury, or of the Right Rev. Dr. George, who, approving of the Budget, yet voted from voting when the House of Lords went into the division.

Uncommon interest, however, attaches to the Bishop of Birmingham, the Bishop of the Bishop of Birmingham, and the Bishop of Hereford. The former is one of the most conspicuous Prelates in England. He is not only a man of great influence, but may be said to be the most powerful man in the State in connection with great social reforms. His views on social reform have given him a prestige which no other Prelate in England can claim.

The Bishop of Birmingham only supported the Budget, but did not vote in the House of Lords.

The Bishop of Hereford, with a speech that for candor, straightforwardness and insight, comes near to the Bishop of London.

He is known to many Peasants.

He is known well as a defender of their property, their families and their homes. He is known as a Peasant.

He is known well as a Peasant.
